Footage Detectives - NEW SERIES - Episode 99

Hello to all you Footage Detectives. In this week's episode, we will, as ever, be taking you back in time, awakening some of those long-lost memories and asking how you used to keep warm during the winters of yesteryear. Was it paraffin heaters and coal fires? Or keeping the oven door open, and who remembers Letraset? Were you skilled enough to peel off the backing without ruining the letters? There's a great little reel of film I've found to remind us.

We'll take a look at owning a car in the 1960s, the decade when car ownership in the UK exploded. And if you've ever wondered about the work of war correspondents, you won't want to miss our footage of those brave journalists right there in the heat of battle during World War 2. There's also your Barbershop memories... of which some are very interesting... so do join us Sunday at 5pm on THE FOOTAGE DETECTIVES

THE FOOTAGE DETECTIVES

Every Sunday at 5pm.
